This is a visual guide to illustrate a typical patient journey, shown here as either a PDF document or website template, using the Radiology Department at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Birmingham as an example.

Your hospital could be featured to showcase its work.

A Visual Guide to Patient Services

Below shows typical departments

When a patient clicks onto their service, they will be taken to the relevant section, which will be illustrated with text and positive imagery.

Example: Radiology (see the following pages)

Meet the Radiology Team

Staying in hospital can be a worrying time, but rest assured you are being looked after by a team of extremely professional and caring people

During your hospital visit, you will meet a consultant to discuss how you are feeling

On the hospital ward your consultant will ask how you are feeling and explain about your procedure

Afterwards, a nurse will take you on a trolley bed to theatre, which is where your procedure will take place

These photos show what a typical operating theatre looks like

Before your procedure you can talk with your medical team. You will then be given some anaesthetic gas to send you to sleep

If you would like to see what happens during your procedure, here are some photographs

And here are some photographs

After your procedure, you will be taken back to the ward, where you will be met by the nurses and your consultant

Meet the rest of our amazing team who are here to help with your recovery
